Cotton closed in Liverpool unchanged, at 101d. for Middling Uplands. Judge WAYNE, of the U. S. Supreme Court,

A rich deposit of magnetic iron ore has been discovered near Stevens' Point, Wisconsin. What the telegraph accomplishes for the ninetconth century is illustrated in the fact that the attempted assessination of the Czar is believed to have become known to the mass of the people of New York city sooner than to those of Paris, where it occurred.

The Australian vintage this year is larger than was over before known, and the yield of gold is increased over that of last year. Over 30,000 tons of breadstuffs have been sent to England, and 105,000 tons more are ready for transportation.

It is stated that Justice WAYNE, of the United States Supreme Court, is very low, and physicians think he cannot live long. He was appointed to his present position by President JACKSON, thirty-two years ago, and had been, prior to that time, a member of Congress from Georgia, his native State. About 23,000 acres of land, yielding rich iron ore, has been purchased in Canada, about forty miles from Lake Ontario, and the railroad connecting with Coburg will soon be doing a large business in transporting the ore to market. The route to the mines was opened last week. Since the emancipation of the negroes in the United States, and especially since the termiindeed, that at the present time the price of plantation slaves is entirely nominal, and it is impossible to sell them at anything like their former value. The cause of the death of the Archduchess MATILDA, of Austria, affianced to the heir of the Italian throne, has transpired. She was smoking a cigarette in her parlor, and when some one came in she bastily put it behind her, and her dress, which was of light material, caught fire, and she was burned to death. She decreased in value in Porto Rico-so much so, was only eighteen, and very much beloved by the people. The Sublime Porte has issued a firmen conferring on aliens the right to buy and holdland in the Ottoman Empire. This is a sensible and liberal grant for the good of all parties; but although its mutual advantages are now apparent to every one, it is an international reform of comparatively but recent date, and one for which the United States, in its infancy, can claim credit.

Rev. JAMES HUNT, of Northmore Green, England, writes about his parishioners thus: "The services here at 11 and 2 o'clock have been as plain and unritualistic as possible for the last six months. Mass is sung on Sundays at 8 A. M., an hour at which all the Protestant parishioners are in bed drunk, sleeping off the effects of their Saturday's carouse. How can this interfere in any way with their liberties? So long as the old services are left in their pristine ugliness, what right have the parishioners to grumble if I give an additional ser-The population of London in the middle of the present year is estimated by the Rogistrar-General at 3,082,372; of Edinburgh (city), 176,081; of Dublin (city) and some suburbs 319,210; of the borough of Liverpool, 492,439; of the city of Manchester, 362,823, and of the horough of Salford, 115,013; of the city of Glasgow, 440,976, of the borough of Birming-bow, 920,000, the city of Bristol, 165,572; of the borough of Newcastle-on-Tyne, 124,960; of the borough of Hull, 106,740.

A careful analysis of information received by the Agricultural Department from all the States, shows that the total area in wheat is ten to fifteen per cent. greater than last year. It is too early to estimate the final result of the harvest, but with average success in ripening the crop ought not to be less than 200,000. 000 bushels. An average area of winter barley has been sown in a majority of the States. The condition of clover is good throughout the country. The area of oats is larger than usual in the West. Ohio is the only State which cannot show an increase.

A Parisian journal says; "The attention of the Czar, the King of Pruesia, and even of Count von Bismanck, was, during the late balls the discovery that has since taken place. At a Count von Bismarck, was, during the late balls and fetes, attracted by the large number of blondes with golden hair who adorned the miners came upon a lode of rich ore four quadrilles. The Venetian blonde, which during the direction of the lode, and at a distance to the direction of the lode, and at a distance to contend with; the last two years fell much in estimation, has in the course of the present month risen greatly in the bourse of fashion. A hairdressor said lately that in ten days he had sold fairhair decorations to the amount of 10,000f. Thus it seems the trade in hair is in the full tide of

A Russian document shows that the direct trade between Russia and China is declining. At Kinthka, where it is chiefly carried on, it only amounted to 8,500,000 roubles in 1866, whereas in 1862 it was 13,500,000. This i owing to various causes-the permission to introduce ten into Russia by scaports, instead of exc usively by land, as formerly; the disturbed political state of China; the dishonesty of Russian merchants. It is probable that the land trade will go on declining, inasmuch as it is considerably cheaper to convey goods from Shanghai to the Baltic by sea than to carry them overland through deserts.

The funeral of the young Archduchess Ma-TILDA, who was burnt to death, took place while her uncle was going through his coronation pageantry at Pesth. The body of the poor girl was buried in the imperial vault at the Capuchin monastery, and was placed by the side of her mother, the Archduchess Hilde-GARDE, who died three years ago. The Archduches MATILDA was the one hundred and firs royal person entrusted to the care of the Capuchin monks. Seventy-two years ago another member of the Austrian house, the young Archduko Laorono, brother of the Emperor PRANCIS, was burnt at Luxemburg, through an explosion of fireworks. In accordance with the custom usual in the burial of members of the imperial family, the heart of the Archduchess was deposited in the Church of the Augustinians, and the intestines have been sent to the Cathedral of St. Stephen. THE HOT WEATHER and the great consumption of les suggest the propriety of explaining how ice may be made artificially. The pro-cess is simple and beautiful. The principal thing required is a good air-pump. On the top of the air-pump set a plate containing sulphuric acid; place a small stool in the plate, and on the stool set a small tray with water in it. Over all place a low glass cover, fitting air tight. The pump being worked the air is drawn out, and with the removal of the pressure the water evaporates rapidly. It seen begins to boil in consequence of the development of heat. Meanwhile the vapor, carrying the heat away with 4, is absorbed by the sul-phuric acid. Thus the water is actually from en solid while it seems to boil. Whether the apparatus could be improved or the principle be used for the production of ice in large quantitles remains to be proved. But if the art of manufacturing ice on a large scale shall be discovered fand the germ of it exists in this experiment) we may expect to see lee factories cetablished. In fact, experiments have already been made, with a fair share of success, in the production of artificial ice at a cost much less than that of the blocks left at our doors by the los carts.

CURRENT TOPICS.

THE SEASON has arrived when people are roubled with insects, which amony the person and injure the crops. So numerous are som of them that many persons declare they "will be caten up alive," and we believe they would e and the crops destroyed but for the number of creatures that devour said insects. Lucky it is for humanity that the carnivorous insects do not increase as rapidly as the granivorous; otherwise, in spite of musquito nets, then powders and bug-banes, there is no telling how many of us would be destroyed by nocturnal venescetion.

As an instance of the fecundity of the insec tribe, a single pair of corn weevils will produce from 6,000 to 8000 descendants a season, and this is a low rate of increase as compared with the increase of some other insects, including those that infest houses and persons that are not noted for their cleanliness. Of them we will not discourse. The female ant lays 80,000 eggs per day, and it has been proven by an eminent naturalist that the female uphis, or plant parasite, becomes, in five brief generations, the mother of a family of 6,000,000,000. The queen bee deposites 120,000 eggs in twenty We cito her, not because we would find days. fault if her honey-sweet majesty layed twice the number, but as an instance of reproductive industry. Of the infinitesimal insects that produce what is called blight, comparatively little is known, but their multiplicatory powers nust be enormous. The mosquito, whose bloodthirsty legions will soon commence their work, is not quite as prolific as some other entomological nuisances, but in particularly warm and humid seasons its procreative capacities appear to be increased a hundred fold. The common house fly will produce over a million of young during the season, and others of our annoyances in like proportion.

nation of the American war, slaves have greatly THE Norfolk Estuary Company in England has just completed another embankment of two miles in length at North Wooten, adjoining the lands of the Prince of Wales and the Hon. Mrs. MARY GREVILLE HOWARD. It was begun in February last, and has added about seven hundred acres to that already reclaimed by this company in the Wash. This now makes a total the splendid locomotive, the "Thomas of about four thousand acres of the thirty-two thousand to be recovered from the sea, for which the necessary funds were raised by the authority of an amended act of Parliament in 1819. A local paper says : "The undertakings of the company are becoming of great imporrate of enclosure be continued yearly, there is no doubt that the once talked-of Victoria county will become a reality. The cost of enclosure is about ten pounds per acre, and the estimated value of the lands enclosed was, at a late arbitration between the owners of the adjoining land and the company, considered to be by proper effort, backed, of course, by cor stated that the land would make bricks; there was a good site for buildings, good water, gravel to make roads, and houses might be built on the high land, and corn would grow there.' This is already a fact, for on the land enclosed the year before last, new belonging to Mr. GEO. PIERREPONT BENTINCK, a fine crop of wheat is in a promising condition for the next harvest. The last enclosure has been carried out by Mr. WILLIAM WALKER, the contractor, being the second bank he has made for the company, and extends from the south end of the last enclosure to Gay's Creek, which will be diverted from its present channel. The bank has been made continuously, without leaving openings for the tides to pass through as has been hitherto adopted."

THIRTY-TWO YEARS AGO, SIT CHARLES LYELD xamined some ancient sea-marks on the coast of Sweden, and concluded therefrom that the donate, or even loan, the South Carolina Railroad Company a fund sufficient to Swing of Marreefently examined the same marks, and comes to an opposite conclusion, which he has just communicated to the Geological Society. The change in the position of the marks he regards as apparent only, due to fluctuations in the level of the water, and not to any upward movement of the land. The question thus opened is important. Perhaps other geologists will take it up, and carry it on to a satisfactory solution. Among other geological facts is the demonstration that gold exists in the gravel of the river valleys of Central New Brunswick, as reported by Mr. Shea; and the selves with the assurance of what is actualsurprising yield from a copper mine in New-foundland. When last year a few specimens of copper ore from that locality were exhibited at the conversazione of the President of the Royal Society at Burlington House, no one anticipated to the direction of the lode, and at a distance of eighty feet, another and richer lode was Ten feet further there was another twenty feet thick, and ten feet still further an other of four feet. This is a most extraordinary instance of the occurrence of copper; the yield will be enormous, for the distance to which the several lodes extend are unknown, and many years may be spent before they are worked out. Specimens are to be seen in the Great Exhibition at Paris, along with specimens of lead ore also from Newfoundland, described as rich as silver.

IN NO OTHER COUNTRY in the world is there anything like the great proportion of property destroyed by fire that there is in the United States. A recent Italian correspondent, in his letter from Florence, after remarking that "if you have property in a house in Florence, the chances are that your children may enjoy it after you, for fire cannot destroy the house, and only an earthquake can throw it down," he says: "There has been but one fire here (Florence) of any consequence within the memory of men new living:" He then contrasts this with our fire returns in this country, remarking: 'It makes one shudder to think of the pasteboord and buckram constructions in the United States. The enormous losses by fire every year in America, are among the saddest things we have to present to the contemplation of a European. In Italian buildings there is hardly anything to burn, while in ours nearly everything is combustible." This is all per-fectly true; but at the same time we may add that the greatly improved character of the buildings which have been erected of late years, and the extensive employment of iron and other non-combustible materials in their construction, give hope that we shall yet have a better state of things, though it may not be realized until fire and fate shall have swept away all the poor buildings that were left us by the last generation.

THE POLLOWING PATHETIC APPEAL, with inreductory remarks, we find in a Richmond paper: "After reading the following appeal made to the manhood of her countrymen by a Southern lady, what man, young or old, who has one spark of gallantry in his bosom will fail to enroll his name and become a volunteer in the new war for the ascendancy of his race, and the honor of, his State and her fair daughters. Breathes there one with soul so dead to every manly impulse, that he will not leap to the front in joyful response and register'

ATLANTA TO CHARLESTON.

The arrival in this city on Wednesday afternoon of a train of cars through from Atlanta, with the first large consignment of wheat from middle and northern Georgia, without breaking bulk, is an event in railroad transportation, which, however simple, and to outsiders easy of execution it may seem, has not before been performed since the general destruction of tracks, cars and engines, in the spring of 1865. Such an event is of tco much importance to the trade of the city to be overlooked.

We learn that Col. E. W. Col.E, the Superintendent of the Georgia Railroad, gathered into one train the first of the new erop of wheat from upper Georgia, and with Rogers," (Mr. R. B. Hudson, Engineer, and Mr. WM. FULLER, Conductor,) left Atlanta on Tuesday afternoon at six o'clock, arriving here in time to ship the grain by four P. M., Wednesday, by the Emily B. Souder, for New York. The distance from Atlanta to Augusta is one hundred and seventy-two miles, from Augusta to Charleston, one hundred and thirty-eighttotal three hundred and ten miles.

This through train, we repeat, is a sign of the times. It shows what can be done responding resources-a railroad must have powerful locomotives, an abundant supply of ears, its track in perfect order, and large resources in money to undertake continuous journeys over three or four hundred miles of track; and it is pleasant to infer from the joint efforts of the Georgia and South Carolina Railroad Companies that the damages of 1865 are being rapidly

Only twenty-two hours from the Atlanta Depot to the steamship in the port of Charleston! Cannot this become a matter of daily routine? We know that it can, and we believe that it will be so when the fall trade opens; and if some PEABODY of great greenback capacity would generously and a proportionate number of locomotives and passenger coaches, we make no doubt this increased means of transportation would be taxed to its utmost during the coming season, and instead of two we could have three or four daily through trains to and from not merely Atlanta, but even Montgomery.

But we are indulging, perhaps, in too great expectations, and must content ourly agreed upon between these two roads connecting us with Atlanta. There is to be a night train through from here to the Gate City, as there is already a day train. President KING of the Georgia Railroad the first in addition to heavy losses in rolling stock, depots, tracks, etc., etc., has had to redeem $1,000,000 of bank notes of its own issue, which has been bravely accomplished at par; no scaling there! The latter can point triumphantly to his eighty miles of (new) road replaced—the now thorough renovation of his entire track; his permanent bridges and depots rebuilt, all without loans, and after such work can fairly claim the confidence of his stockholders and the business community, in what seems to be the somewhat thankless task of furthering the interests of Charleston and the State.

In conclusion we beg our merchants to make a note of it, that there is to be no breaking of bulk between Charleston and Atlanta, and that two trains a day will go forward to bring produce East, and earry goods and merchandise, fertilizers and agricultural utonsils West. In other words there is going to be a lively business, and our merchants will do well to let their country customers know it.

THE POURTH OF JULY. On Thursday the anniversary of American Independence was celebrated in Charleston, quietly by the white citizens, but with unwonted colat by the newly enfranchised colored people. The enthusiasm that for so many years marked the celebration of the Feurth of July appears to have been, in a great measure at least, transforred from the former class to the latter. And this is quite natural. In former times this was a gala day in Charleston, because of the grand parades of our numerous, gorgeously uniformed volunteer militia companies, each one of whom strove, in honorable rivalry, to eclipse all the others. and neither pains nor expense were spared to make the members and the companies appear in first rate soldierly trim. Ther there were various civil associations, which celebrated their anniversaries on this day. The abolition of our militia companies sapped the very foundations of the Fourth of July. The great social and political ebullition, the resultant of the war, has brought new elements to the surface, which have assumed the place and discharge the functions of those supplanted by the revolution. The colored race has a natural penchant for "shows" of any kind, and in the days of its thraldom formed a large contingent of all our parades and processions.

Thore was usually an ocean of colored

Now they enter with great zest into all such festivities, and particularly the cele-

of each week, agreeably to the following bration of Independence Day, which, withsection of the New Postoffice Law, as the out any great strain of logic, they consider as commemorating the beginning of that civil and political freedom on this Continent, which led to the end now before and around us, namely, their personal emancipation from slavery.

To their credit it must be said, and we do it cheerfully and with pleasure, that their behavior on Thursday, and on every similar occasion during the past two years, has been altogether unexceptionable. We do not think the same elements of society have moved along as harmoniously in any other city of the South, as has been the case in Charleston. We observed them elosely on Thursday, and saw nothing in the least reprehensible. There was much to be sure, to execute the risibilities of those inclined to see the ludierous. But the mimiery was all in good faith, and conduct ed with the utmost decorum. We are glad our colored friends enjoyed themselves, and did it all in such a perfectly orderly manner. In another column will be found fuller accounts of the festivities

EXPLANATION OF DRAWINGS.

The alumbers from 1 to 30,000 corresponding with the numbers on the Tickets, are printed on separate slips of paper, and endered with small tubes, and placed in a glass wheel—all the prizes in secondance with the icheme, are similarly printed and enciroled, and placed in another glass wheel. The wheels are then revolved, and the boys, blindfolded, draw the numbers and price. One of the boys draws one number from the whole of prizes. The number and price are more than the wheel of prizes. The number and price are more than the whole of prizes. The number and price are more than the same time the anticare and placed to the credit of that number—and this generation is repeated until all the pubes are drawn out.

The Tickets are printed in the following style: They are divided into Eighths, printed on the face of the Ticket 8 Eighths bearing the same number consitute a Whole Ticket. Prizes payable without discount.
